An Interesting Situation

The Democratic situation as revealed by the telegraph presents some exceedingly curious and interesting features. The utter demoralization of the party is a fact which must at once attract every person's attention. It has been discovered by the leaders that the Tammany Convention committed a fatal mistake. As the Sacramento Union observes "that conclave was an out and out rebel concern, wholly managed in the interests of Southern men and to catch the sympathies of a class of rebel malignants who have neither votes nor influence." Yet before Blair could obtain the endorsement of the Convention for Vice President, he had to declare himself in favor of revolutionary measures dictated by these very same rebels. The party have learned that the new rebellion will not work, and are flying about in terrible trepidation to mend their mistake. Their head organ continues to call on Blair to withdraw and relieve the party of the dead weight it is staggering under as if it were not universally known that the position of Blair is in exact harmony with the platform, and that he was nominated by the Convention solely because he had declared in favor of the revolutionary programme which the World has now discovered it killing the party. And Seymour, as a last resource, takes the stump, probably intending to disclaim all sympathy with Blair's sentiments, though he himself stands with Blair on a revolutionary platform which was constructed by a rebel General, and which declares the reconstruction acts unconstitutional and void! Could anything surpass the utter folly of this attempt by the Democratic managers to make the people believe that the Tammany Convention did not mean what it said, and that it is safe to trust this party with the control of the country?

It is gratifying to observe that the head organ of the Democracy has discovered that the party cannot subsist on vaporings and make believe. This is an important discovery for the World's party, but it comes too late to be of any service to them in this campaign. It is truly entertaining to find that paper declaring that Blair's revolutionary declarations which secured him the nomination, and Wade Hampton's plank in the platform which has so greatly delighted the entire party, are only "vaporings." Nothing could be more evident than that the managers are endeavoring to repudiate the whole action of the Convention except the nomination of Seymour, and, as the World expresses it, "change the aspect of the canvass." There is a refreshing simplicity in the head organ's declaration that the views of Seymour, and not those of Blair, should be regarded as the basis of the campaign," when Seymour and Blair are standing together on the same revolutionary platform!

But though the Democracy may try to change front and modify their principles, the people will not trust them. It would be the height of folly to do it. The intelligent voting classes of the country are not children to be played with. One good result, however, will follow this Democratic spasm. It will greatly disorganize the party, and make our triumph all the more grand and overwhelming. This attempt to change front is an admission by the Democracy themselves that they are wrong and that their cause is a wicked one, and it will weaken them more than a dozen defeats. If, after the recent elections, anything more could have been wanting to assure a Republican triumph, we should have it in the situation in which this proposition "to change the aspects of the canvass" has placed the Democratic party before the country.

Blair's Last Blare

For rage of defamation and audacity of falsehood, Frank Blair surpasses any man who ever stood prominently before the American people. He loses no opportunity to vilify and denounce General Grant, and even insinuates that if General Grant is elected he will be assassinated. There is no wonder that Blair's party cannot stand up under the load of opprobium which he is bringing upon it. The climax of his silly falsehoods is reached in his declaration that the Supreme Court in the Milligan case have declared the reconstruction acts unconstitutional and void. We suppose it does not impair the accuracy of this statement that the decision in the Milligan case was rendered on the 17th December, 1866, while the reconstruction measures were not passed by Congress until the 2d March, 1867. The subject of reconstruction was not touched in the Milligan decision. And the Supreme Court have steadily refused to consider the subject of reconstruction at all, holding that it is a political question to be settled by Congress. Milligan was a citizen of Indiana, and not a citizen of any rebellious State, and the essential question considered by the Court in his case related to the establishment of martial law and military courts in a State not in insurrection. Equally untrue is Blair's assertion regarding the disfranchisement of Southern whites. But suppose the Court had decided this was unconstitutional as the constitution formerly stood is it not made constitutional by the last amendment? This is just what the fourteenth amendment is for. What wonder that the Democratic party has come to grief under such leaders as it has chosen?

NEBRASKA. At the last general election in Nebraska (in 1867), their total vote of the State was 8,611. Republican majority, 145. Now, the total vote is 18,000. Republican majority, 2,400. This shows remarkable growth. Though the youngest State in the Union, Nebraska is making gigantic strides in prosperity. The strength of the Republican party in the State is increasing in full ratio with the growth of her material interests. All this is attributable chiefly to the energizing influence of the great Pacific Railroad. The Democracy—the dark age party—can no more flourish in such an active working progressive community than mushrooms can grow in the light of heaven.

WEST VIRGINIA. Through the Democratic State that both parties claim West Virginia we are pretty certain the Republicans have carried the State. Wheeling has been heard from, and has given a Republican majority of 1,000. It is now stated that the contest in Wheeling is very close. Two years ago this county (in which Wheeling is situated) was largely Democratic, yet the State went Republican by over 6,000 majority.

West Virginia Election

WHEELING, Oct. 21.—The returns show a Republican increase in the State. The same is true of the Democratic claims. Ritchie carried the State by the usual majority, while the Republicans claim to have elected the State ticket and elected all their Congressmen.

New York City Tammany Ticket.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The Tammany convention last night nominated the following city ticket: Register, M. Connelly; City Judge, Noah Davis; Supervisor, Wm. M. Meech; Justices of Supreme Court, Judge Barnard.

Seymour on his Travels.

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Oct. 22.—Seymour speaks at Cleveland this Friday, Chicago Saturday, Cincinnati Monday and Pittsburg on Wednesday evening.

Rebel Movement in Texas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—A letter from one of the best-posted men in Texas says the rebels have declared several towns of Northern Texas are receiving ammunition under the authority of the rebel Governor, ostensibly for the purpose of fighting Indians, but evidently for the purpose of aiding in the Seymour movement. This item is of a piece with the rebel movement of a little over a year after he was elected by the people of my State chamber clerk.

Great Commercial Project

At a meeting of the incorporators of the Isthmus Canal Company (the Peter Cooper Co.) on Tuesday evening the company organized and elected Peter Cooper President, Frank A. Conkling, Secretary. Seward and Attorney General Evarts were present and took an active part in the proceedings. The feasibility of the proposed canal was thoroughly discussed, and the highest estimated cost was $1,000,000 000. Five commissioners were appointed to obtain subscriptions to stock. Shares were exhibited prepared by F. N. Perry. Seward made an elaborate speech setting forth the necessities of this formidable enterprise, and said he had no doubt of its early completion.

The mass meeting of war Democrats at Cooper Institute this evening was addressed by F. B. Cutting, Dix, Pierpont and other able speakers.

Democratic Rascality

The Tribune's special says D. B. Rosenburg, Chairman of the Tammany Naturalization Society of New York was arrested yesterday charged with issuing forged naturalization papers. Several thousand of these fraudulent papers have been issued. Affidavits are out with the seal of the competent Court attached leaving a blank space for the name. Rosenburg is held to bail in the sum of ten thousand dollars.

Oh No! They Never Rebel!

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The address of the National Democratic Committee is published. It repels the charge that the Democracy intend a resolution or for the restoration to the laws in the following words: "The Democratic party can proudly point to every page of its record. It has never violated a single obligation of the fundamental compact by which these United States entered into the family of nations. Its watchword in peace as in war has been and will always be Union, Constitution and laws,' and all men or set of men however high they might be placed by the suffrages of their fellow citizens can ever expect to receive the support of the great conservative party in any revolutionary attempt against the established laws."

Specials to the morning papers say that Blair's friends at Washington are highly indignant because Blair is utterly ignored in the address.

Another Speech from the "Enfant Terrible"

SPRINGFIELD ILL., Oct. 22.—Frank Blair spoke in the City Hall last night to a large audience. In the open air, despite the unpleasant weather, he was also enthusiastic in his speech, save his deserving the correction as of the report of his St. Louis address representing him as saying that Grant would never surrender the supreme power.

An immense Republican meeting was held in Chicago yesterday, and was addressed by the most prominent speakers in the West.

Washington News.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The Tribune's Washington special says Minister Johnson telegraphs that the difficulties relative to the Alabama depredations are to be referred to the King of Prussia for adjustment and the sitting for 50 days, as telegraphed by the Associated Press.

Next Monday the C. P. R. R. Co will have 30 cars running over 500 miles of that line. The Company have accepted 500 miles. Work continues between Wilcox and Cornelius Wednesday, and gave the 15th to Cornelius Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Gen. Pope has issued an order containing instructions to the Board of Registration for a revision of the registration directing that all persons who hold Federal or State offices, engaging in rebellion, or aiding and abetting the same, are hereby excluded from registration. No proclamation is proper or supposed entitle the applicant to registry.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.—The files of the Republican to-day at Alexandria was desecrated a few nights ago by a mob of armed men.

West Virginia Election

WHEELING, Oct. 22.—Returns come in very slowly. Those received so far show Democratic gains. Wheeling city is very close. The Republicans concede that it has gone Democratic.

Miscellaneous

BUFFALO, Oct. 22.—Notwithstanding the inclement weather an immense crowd assembled to hear Hon. Seymour make the opening speech of the campaign. Fully 8,000 persons assembled at the Rink.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 21.—The rail and ticket agents adopted some articles to-day under the name of the U. S. Railroad Association of Line Companies to bring freights as well as passenger conduct to.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The Executive of the National Board of Fire Underwriters met in this city to-day. The Committee on Legislation and Taxation made a lengthy report demanding the repeal of the tax on agencies generally and several collections of the present State laws regarding insurance companies.

LIVINGSTON, N. J. Oct. 21.—Rev. Dr. Hall, ex-Pastor has arrived and was received with demonstrations of hearty welcome. He will be inaugurated President of the College to-day.
